❖ SELECTION OF THE STUDY AREA

Darjeeling has been selected for our study as it is called the queen of the hills, where diversity in relief can be seen along with a different ethnic people with their different culture, lifestyle, economic activities and social infrastructure.

❖ STUDY AREA : Darjeeling, Mirik and Lepcha Jagat

❖ FINDINGS

1. Insufficient infrastructural facilities have been found in our study area.
2. Tourism industry is very important and play a positive role for their livelihood.
3. Natural beauty helps to develop the tourism industry.
4. Absent of agricultural practices except cultivation.

❖ RECOMMENDATION

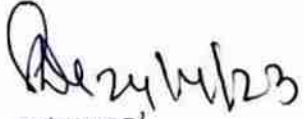

There should be separate infrastructural development program for different cases as education, health, drinking water, employment etc. more investment needed for modern agriculture, horticulture and tourism industry.

❖ CONCLUSION

The overall discussion about physical, cultural and socio-economic status of our study area brings out the developmental status without proper infrastructural development. From this view it is also noted that different amenities are grossly inadequate. In our government has different NGOs applied the above recommendation for the proper infrastructural development of our study area, it will be sustainable development.

Significance

In Jaypur, we find traces of history along with the natural beauty of the forest. It is a dense forest area where various species of trees, animals like deer, elephants and birds are seen.

Bishnupur is a great historical place, was the capital of the Mallabhum founded in 8th to 9th century. kingdom, which was the most important Hindu dynasty in Bengal. The famous terracotta temples were built by the Malla rulers in the 17th and 18th centuries and some say it was built in the 13th and 14th centuries. There is disagreement on this matter. These temples are an architectural masterpiece. Bishnupur is also famous for Baluchari saree. Baluchari Saree design inspired the terracotta work of the temples.

Outcome of the field tour

Field trips enrich experiences among students. Field trips provide opportunities for social and personal growth, and can foster interest and motivation to learn in students.
